

Fwd: [Webinar] Masterclass with creator of the world's most popular online course

GM IT BITT GROUP <gmitbittgroup@gmail.com>
Draft

Thu, May 14, 2020 at 3:15 PM

From: Coursera for Campus <coursera-for-campus@coursera.org>
Date: Thu, 14 May 2020, 13:03
Subject: [Webinar] Masterclass with creator of the world's most popular online course
To: <ceobittgroup@gmail.com>

coursera for Campus

WEBINAR

Discover best practices of digital education

Register now

May 14, 2020

5:00 PM IST

Master class with Dr. Barbara Oakley, co-teacher of world's most popular online course

Join us for an exclusive session with Dr. Barbara Oakley, an online learning pioneer and teacher of "Learning How to Learn," the world's most popular massive open online course with over 2 million enrolled students. Dr. Oakley will discuss mental tools and learning best practices that can help both students and faculty adapt to the sudden shift to digital education.

In a time when universities are transforming dramatically in response to COVID-19, Dr. Oakley's insights, drawn from her research into the complex relationship between neuroscience and social behavior, can help university leaders guide their institutions during this challenging era.

Sincerely,
Coursera for Campus Team

Speakers

Dr. Barbara Oakley

Dr. Barbara Oakley, PhD, PE is an author, TED speaker, a professor of engineering at Oakland University in Rochester, Michigan, and the Ramón y Cajal Distinguished Scholar of Global Digital Learning at McMaster University. Dr. Oakley's research has been described as "revolutionary" in the Wall Street Journal and she has won numerous teaching awards.

Register for the master class on May 14, 2020

Register now

coursera for Campus

Unsubscribe | Privacy Policy | Coursera Blog

Copyright © 2020 Coursera | 381 E. Evelyn Ave, Mountain View, CA 94041 USA